Linnehan's USA Computer Systems Announces Jay Rose as National Sales Director, overseeing the debut of "The ANSWER", the Flagship Microsoft® Accounting-based Dealer Management System (DMS) for successful used car dealers and dealer groups.

Trenton, ME – February, 2007 – Linnehan's USA Computer Systems recently welcomed Jay Rose to their team, appointing him the company's National Sales Director. In his leadership role, Rose will be responsible for overseeing all aspects related to the promotion and marketing of USA Computer Systems. Rose will specialize in developing a national installation and service network for their recently debuted Microsoft® accounting-based product, "The ANSWER."

Rose has been involved in many facets of the automobile industry, since beginning his automotive career in the late 1980's. His experience includes Sales, Finance, BDC, Sales Management and Training, including his most recent position as Business Development Manager for the Joe Verde Group. Rose is a skilled communicator, speaking to such organizations as the National Alliance of Buy-Here, Pay-Here Dealers (NABD), National Independent Auto Dealers Association (NIADA), state Independent Auto Dealer Associations, and Dealer Twenty Groups. He will continue to travel nationally and internationally and develop the exciting global relationships he has been blessed with for USA Computer Systems' revolutionary management software.

"We couldn't be more pleased to have someone of Jay's caliber join our organization. From the moment we thought of who the perfect person would be for this position, Jay has been our first choice. We are looking forward to a very exciting 2007!" said John Linnehan, Founder and Chief Operating Officer of USA Computer Systems. Linnehan continued, "There is a select handful of influential people in the used vehicle industry, and Jay is certainly among the leaders. Partnering with a first class person like Jay Rose is the perfect fit for dealers desperately seeking the proper information to educate themselves on why and how to make their investment in our first class Dealer Management System"

Rose has already put together the foundation for the nationwide distribution strategy for The ANSWER. He is available to schedule on-line demonstrations of this revolutionary software solution by contacting USA Computer Systems toll-free at 1-866-668-7227. Rose also could schedule on-site demonstrations at the spectacular USA Computer Systems headquarters. They are conveniently located just a 45 minute courtesy limousine ride from Bangor International Airport on the beautiful coast of Maine. All are welcome to be their guest and personally observe this DMS in full operation at the Linnehan sales and finance operations.

The ANSWER, by USA Computer Systems, has been designed for Independent Dealers by a very successful Independent Dealer! This revolutionary Dealer Management System goes BEYOND Full Integration—All modules are built directly INTO Microsoft Dynamics GP ® Accounting!
